Regents Global Ambassador Travel Grants

Qualified students with mature leadership skills may apply for grants that reimburse up to $1000 of travel expenses for study abroad programs. Grant recipients will participate in service activities abroad as determined by their campus advisor or study abroad program director. Global Ambassadors promote Georgia's international education policy through public engagements with schools, civic organizations, local governments, businesses, and other groups. Deadline: Continuous, but early application encouraged.

Regents Work and Study Abroad Stipends

Special on-campus student employment positions are available for students planning to study abroad. Students can earn up to $500 per semester. Students may elect to have their earnings credited directly toward program costs. Employment assignments vary; many include assisting with study abroad promotion and recruitment. This program is open to all USG students in good academic standing who have made initial application to study abroad. Deadline: Continuous, but early application encouraged.
